

Dear Deep,

Happy birthday bro. I just wanted to say how much I appreciate you. You've been my right hand for almost five years now, and honestly I've lost track of how long we've been best friends. You've had my back through some of my lowest moments, and I can't count how many times you checked in on me or made sure I was good when things weren't.

I want you to know I've always got your back the same way. No matter what happens or where life takes us, I'll always be there for you bro.

Here's to another blessed year that you made I'm forever proud of you and how far you've come.

Best,

Rayat
